Annual Freshman Prom Takes Place At Union Tonight

Opportunity Afforded To Meet Classmates At Dance

BEGINS AT 8:15

No Upperclassmen Will Be Admitted This Year

Tonight freshmen and those cute young things, freshettes, swing into the collegiate whirl when the Freshman Prom, the only official freshman dance of the year, gets under way at 8:15 sharp in the McGill Union on Sherbrooke Street. Swaying to the rhythm of the 'Privateers' in the ballroom of the Union, the freshmen will have ample opportunity to make the acquaintance of the fair sex during a variety of 'Novelty Dances.'

The executive wishes to make it clear that the Prom is for freshmen only this year, and crashing seniors are warned that they will receive a cool greeting at the hands of officials and doormen alike. The main purpose of the dance is to give freshmen a chance to meet members of the opposite sex, and so pave the way for the first Union House Informal, which will be held on October 20th, a week from tonight.

Freshies are asked to check their overcoats and hats at the checkroom on the second floor, where at the same time they will receive name-cards which are to be pinned on their lapels. A semi-bar will be opened on the third floor, where between dances, soft drinks may be obtained. Later in the evening supper will be served in the cafeteria and in the spacious grill on the main floor. Meanwhile the 8-pieces of the Privateers will beat out a soft tempo until 12:15 when the Prom is officially over.

The Union House Committee are the sponsors of the dance, which takes the place of the old Conservat in Strathcona Hall. They expect a full turnout of freshmen whose gala night it is. Mrs. Vaughan has kindly consented to chaperon the freshettes, while Don Small will be the Man of the Hour for the freshmen. Dress will be strictly informal.

Band Accompanies Team On Saturday

Marching Practice Takes Place Today At Stadium

Band men will have a marching practice this afternoon at 5:00 p.m. sharp at the Stadium as their final rehearsal before the game tomorrow at Kingston at which the Band will attend.

A very satisfactory practice was held last night according to Mr. Norris, the instructor of the band, who was pleased with the progress made. The band have been practising daily this week in preparation for their trip to Kingston.

The following men in the Band are to be at Bonaventure Station tomorrow morning at 9:15 to take the train to Kingston where the McGill-Queen's game is to take place: Shaw, McCallum, Phillips, Gillemeier, McCann, Smith, Crabtree, Schofield, Peebles, Wanless, McKergow, Teisler, Lindsay, McMath, Rudkin, Saffrin, Piddington, Swift, Jones, McLennan, Lazarus, Hogg, Walford, Love, Rowell, Gordon, Johnson, Laing, Simpson, Gladman, McMillan, Ross, Kay, McCoy.

A professor at the University of Oklahoma who might boast of one of the largest literature classes ever conducted in those parts told his audience recently of a young student who objected to studying Hamlet because he had "had" it in high school. When the professor insisted that Shakespearean drama be included in the course in spite of the repetition, the student returned with the query: "Didn't Shakespeare write anything of college calibre?"

Yukonite Places McGill In Province Of Ontario

Have you a sense of humour? Or rather I should ask, are you able to distinguish between the sublime and the ridiculous? For to some people, this incident might appear sublime, while to others, it might seem to possess all the signs of a ridiculous joke. Therefore, if you are deficient of humour read no farther or the results might be disastrous—in fact, extremely fatal.

The Extra-Mural Relations Department has received a postcard from Yukon, Oklahoma, asking for all available information on the British

McGill Supporters Accompany Team To Queen's Game

ON SATURDAY morning at 9:45 there is an excursion train pulling out of Bonaventure Station to enable students to see the game at Kingston in the afternoon. The excursion is extended over the week end and enables students to return in time for lectures on Monday morning.

For the last few years there has been a good crowd of McGill rooters on the sidelines at Queen's. It is hoped that this year will not be an exception to the preceding ones. With two games' practise in their favour the McGill throats should be able to make the Queen's stadium respond with their cheers.

Along with the other McGill supporters will be the band under the leadership of Fred Shaw. They have been practising for some time and promise to furnish excitement and music at half time. It is also very likely that the cheer leader, John Sprinkle, will be on hand to help the rooters yell.

Redpath Librarians Attend Conference

American Library Association Holds International Meeting

VARIED PROGRAM

British Museum Official Visits McGill En Route To Chicago

Leaving this week for Chicago, Dr. G. R. Lomer, University Librarian, Mrs. Mary Duncan Carter of the Library School, and Miss L. A. Young, also of the Library, are attending there the international conference of the American Library Association from October 16th to 21st at which most of the countries of Europe as well as Canada and the United States will be represented.

The convention is held for the purpose of discussing problems arising in library work, all phases being considered at the round table conferences planned for the duration of the meeting. The delegates will also attend the World's Fair and visit the libraries of the city of Chicago. Next year the convention of the Association will be held in Montreal.

Official Visits McGill
Arundell Esdalle, secretary of the British Museum and also editor of the "Library Association Record" was at McGill on Monday on his way to Chicago. He expressed his disappointment that, owing to the holiday, the Redpath Library was closed but he did meet and have lunch with the executives of the library.

Among prominent delegates at the convention will be Alfred K. M. Chiu, Librarian of the Chinese-Japanese library at Harvard University; Isak Colligh, director of the Royal Library at Stockholm and the Honorary President of the International Federation of Library Associations; Marcel Godet, director of the National Library of Switzerland at Berne; T. P. Stevens, Librarian of the League of Nations; and Monsignor Eugene Tisserant, director of the Vatican Library. Other nations being represented are France, Italy, Germany, Spain, and Roumania.

Financed By Grants
Some of these delegates are being sent by their countries or associations and others by grants from the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and the Rockefeller Foundation through the American Library Association.

A feature of the convention is a luncheon to be given in honor of various individuals, who, by their gifts, have made possible some of the great libraries of which the United States now boast.

system of government radio control. The postage on this query from the United States was two cents over-due; broke is the word applied to them. The enquirer, no doubt, being influenced by the fact that Yukon is in Oklahoma, has the effrontery to place McGill University in that fair province of Ontario. Broke is too mild a word for us—we are crushed—we stagger under this blow—even an American NRA act would fail to bolster up our spirits. Not only is the Yukon lost to Oklahoma, but our own McGill University is swallowed up in Ontario. O Death, where is thy blissful sting?

Cooperative Student Lunch Room Opens Doors This Monday

New Cafeteria Located In Basement Of Strathcona Hall

CALLED "THE PIT"

Will Serve Meals And Afternoon Tea At Low Prices

The new co-operative Cafeteria and Tea Room will make its official bow to McGill Students and faculty on Monday, October 16. There is still some decorating to be done and a few other finishing touches to be made—but those in charge are confident that everything will be ready for operation at the first of the week.

"The Pit," the name by which this student rendezvous will henceforth be known will serve breakfasts, lunches and supper at moderate prices. In addition those who eat regularly at 'The Pit' will receive their share of the monthly profits in the form of extra meals. A first-class chef has been secured who is ready to do his best to prepare wholesome and attractive menus both 'a la carte' and 'table d'hôte'.

Tea At All Hours

In the morning and afternoon coffee, tea and side orders will be available for those who wish to drop into 'The Pit' for a change from the round of lectures and studying. If there is sufficient demand 'The Pit' will remain open between 9 p.m. and 11 p.m. to accommodate those desiring hot drinks and other refreshments.

Caters to Parties

'The Pit' has already catered to several luncheon and banquet parties. Arrangements will be made with the management of Strathcona Hall to enable clubs or groups of Students to hold most any kind of public or private gathering of this order. 'The Pit' will be ready to co-operate in planning luncheons, parties, teas, dances or other meetings at any time for any University group who desire to meet in Strathcona Hall.

Language Courses Program Announced

McGill Students Admitted To Extension Courses For Half Price

Anyone interested in languages is now being offered an excellent opportunity of learning any of the more commonly used tongues. Courses in French, German and Italian may be taken different evenings during the week. The fees for these courses are $10.00 each. An Advanced Course in French for $12.00, and a Spanish Course for $12.50 are also offered. The latter will have its lectures twice a week throughout the session.

These Courses are made possible by the Department of Extra-Mural Relations, which acts in co-operation with the Mechanic's Institute, Atwater Avenue.

Special courses in Architecture, Engineering, English and many other subjects may also be taken. Further information on these courses as to the days and times of lectures may be had on application to the Secretary, Department of Extra-Mural Relations. McGill students taking any of these courses are admitted for half price.

McCord Museum Given Silk Relic

Depicts Celebration Of King Edward VII's Birthday

As the result of a request for documents of interest to the City of Montreal, the McCord National Museum has received a donation from Mrs. George Ahern consisting of a program printed on silk of the gigantic display of fireworks which was held in celebration of the birth of King Edward VII.

This unique celebration took place on the night of Friday 10, 1842 on the St. Lawrence River in front of the City of Montreal. Among the many different fireworks displayed were, "Two Splendid Chinese Fountains," and "New Moon with Fixed Stars." After the "Grand Attack on the Castle," the Montreal Royal Artillery fired the Royal Salute.

The McCord Museum will add this relic to their ever increasing collection, as it should prove of interest to the inhabitants of Montreal.

First Meeting Of German Club Will Take Place Today

Fraser Gurd, president of the German Club, has announced that the first meeting of the year will be held at 5 p.m. this afternoon, in Room 64 of the Arts Building. Plans for the forthcoming season will be discussed and two new officers will be elected to the executive.

A cordial invitation has been extended to all students studying German, and also to any others who may be interested in the activities. Lack of knowledge, it is stated, need not prevent anyone from attending. Last year, in addition to a fancy dress dance, several successful social evenings were held, in addition to the usual German meetings. It is hoped that sufficient interest will be shown to warrant an active and interesting program for this year.

Extra-Mural Dept. Announces Program

Illustrated Lectures Will Be Available For Schools

WELL KNOWN SPEAKERS

Subjects Range From Science To Travel And Literature

Directed by Colonel Wilfrid Bovey, the Department of Extra-Mural Relations has published its program of Lyceum and Illustrated Lectures for the season 1933-1934.

Report Increase At TheologRegistration

Satisfaction Expressed At Large Number Of Students Enrolled

Great satisfaction has been expressed by the authorities of the Theological Colleges at the high registration and the standards of the students for the coming year. While no figures are available from the Presbyterians, the Anglican and the United Colleges report a full attendance.

Dr. Abbot-Smith announces that there are 45 students in preparation for the Anglican ministry, of whom 36 are above the matriculation standard, and there will be six graduating this year. Dr. Smyth, of the United College, while unable to quote the actual number of those enrolled, states that the College is full and includes a number of B.A. graduates from McGill which is, according to him, unusual but very gratifying. There will be 11 graduates from the United College this year.

Jack Dove, of the Diocesan College, has won a scholarship for his second year, and G. R. Garham of the same institution has won another for his third and fourth years.

University Libraries Maintain Increased Annual Circulation

Report Shows Greater Attendance Than Ever Last Year

MANY NEW VOLUMES

Various Exhibits In Reading Room Gallery Attracted Wide Interest

In spite of difficulties involved in the continued need for space and funds, university libraries showed an increase of 8,085 readers and of 13,060 in circulation during the term of July 1932 to June 30, 1933, according to the report of the Library Committee issued recently by Dr. G. R. Lomer, the Librarian. Total attendance was 121,075 while the total circulation was 164,342.

Received Gifts

The Library has been fortunate in receiving many gifts of books, pictures, and funds, both from organizations and individuals. 3,226 volumes and 12,693 pamphlets have been received during the year. It is a matter of gratification to be able to report that the Carnegie Corporation of New York, on the recommendation of one of its committees proposed to donate $5,000 a year for three years beginning with the session 1933-34 for the purchase of books to develop undergraduate reading.

Museum Enriched

The Museum has been enriched by several fine specimens of Greek and Medieval epigraphy and the organized visits of groups from schools have increased.

There have been a number of exhibits during the year. In the Reading Room Gallery Canadian Handicrafts, The Great War in Retrospect, Oriental Art, and Bird pictures have been shown. In the Exhibition Case, Shakespeare, Hindu Art, Buddhist Sutras, Egyptian Material, Old Cookery Books, Founder's Day Exhibit, Eclipse of the Sun and many other points of interest were exhibited. In the Bibliotheca Osleriana special exhibits were arranged for the French Library School for visiting astronomers at the time of the Solar Eclipse, American physicians and for the Royal Victoria College Alumnae. A photographic exhibit of the library and life of Osler was prepared for the Chicago World Fair.

The Travelling Library Department has been handicapped by the reduction of its already insufficient funds but has nevertheless succeeded in enlarging its scope and increasing its service under energetic administration of Miss Elizabeth G. Hall, B.A., who has directed the Department since its foundation. This Department demonstrates the necessity of libraries in schools. During the past year 60 school libraries were sent to 44 schools with the privilege of keeping them for six months. During the year 294 Travelling Libraries were sent to 176 places—a wider distribution than in any previous year. Owing to the prevalent unemployment, the Department lent libraries to several settlements and community centres in the city, as well as to boys' camps.

The McGill Medical Society (Undergraduates) has donated $100 towards buying text-books for the use of all years. Other donations to this library have enabled the purchase of many books and periodicals.

S. C. M. Officers To Officiate At Service

Ransom And Brooks Address American Presbyterian Church Sunday

The American Presbyterian Church, Dorchester street, will hold a special Students' Service on Sunday, October 15. The minister, Rev. C. H. Dickinson, B.A., B.D., will be assisted by Malcolm Ransom, President of the Arts Undergraduates Society, and M. G. Brooks of the Student Christian Movement.

The service, which will commence at 7:30 p.m. will consist of an address by the minister, titled, "The Significance of Jesus." Following the service, a Social Hour will be held in the Church Parlour. The greetings of the students will be received, and the invitation of the Church extended. Refreshments will be served, and a musical program presented. The meeting shall be conducted by Mr. F. A. C. Dossie, B.A., of the United Theological College, assistant to the minister and director of young people's work in the Church. The Rev. Mr. Dickinson urges as many as possible to attend, and everyone will be cordially welcomed.

First Meeting Of Labour Club Will Be Held Tuesday

NEXT Tuesday evening will witness the first meeting of the year of a well-known campus organization when the Labour Club will meet at 8:15 in Strathcona Hall. According to the executive an interesting and varied program for the coming season has been drawn up and will be presented to the group for discussion. The Labour Club devotes itself to the discussion of current social questions of importance. In this category are included modern economic problems, labour questions, politics and political matters.

As this is the opening meeting of the year the executive hopes that a large attendance will be on hand. All students interested in social questions are invited. This year the executive of the Labour Club is composed of the following students: President, Gerry Sampson; Vice-President, Eleanor Reid; Secretary, Harold Gibbard. The Labour Club publication, the "Alarm Clock," will appear again, with Albert Marcus as Editor-in-Chief.

Financial Statement Viewed With Alarm

McGill Governors Convened For Annual Meeting Last July

BUDGET REVIEWED

Stringent Economies And No Promotion Policy Adopted

In considering the Finance Committee's Report and the Budget at the annual meeting of the Board of Governors of McGill University held last July, the continued alarming drop in income was noted as the chief feature. This loss of revenue was attributed to two causes—(1) the necessity of meeting each year's deficit, leaving less capital on which to earn income; (2) the cessation of interest payments on investments held.

Within the last seven years the total deficits have amounted to nearly $2,000,000—and to that extent the University has been existing on its capital. Income from interest dropped $162,000 during the past year and a further drop of $45,000 is anticipated for the coming year. The fact that many of the University's investments are now yielding no income at all is largely responsible for this large decrease.

Fees Increase Income
The increased income received from fees last year amounted to $97,000. Over $71,000 was saved through reductions in salaries and wages. Yet the effect of these increases in revenue and savings in expenditure was practically wiped out by the great drop in income. Salaries are again being cut this year by $30,000, wages by $15,000 and appropriations by more than $80,000 but again these curtailments will be greatly nullified by the drop in income.

No Promotions
The policy of "no promotions" has been adopted temporarily although one replacement has been made in the Department of Philosophy, Professor R. D. McLennan succeeding Professor Porteous. The vacancies left by Professor Waugh in History and Dean Barton at Macdonald College remain, in each case the University suffering a severe loss.

Substantial economies have been made in Light, Heat and Power in the last five years and as a result the annual cost for these services has been reduced by $20,000.

Students Parade

French Associations Assist U. Of M. In Coming Demonstration

At the University of Montreal yesterday an official announcement was made that the parade and rally, which was to be a mild demonstration, will be enlarged by several thousand members from local French Canadian associations. Members of Les Jeunes Canada and Association Catholique de la Jeunesse Canadienne Française will also be present.

The parade, decided on by the students, will, on Saturday, October 21, leave Place Viger Square. Carrying banners and signs, they will proceed to the Mount Royal Arena, Mount Royal Avenue.

As has been previously stated, the University has been having serious financial difficulties this year and this demonstration is intended to draw the attention of the general public. It will be marked by the attendance of the younger generation only. Mr. T. P. Robert, president of the Student Body will be the principal speaker.

Arts Usurp, Interfaculty Track Title

Medicine, Former Champions Gain Second Place In Aggregate

NEW DISCUS MARK SET BY MEIKLEJOHN

Bert Hasler Cops Both Middle Distance Events

THE McGill Interfaculty Track and Field crown today rests within new portals as a result of the sweeping victory of the Arts faculty yesterday afternoon at the Stadium. Bill Gentlemen's boys extended a winning stride throughout the afternoon's program

COMPARING MCGILL AND TORONTO INTERFACULTY TRACK RESULTS
	McGill	Toronto
100 yds.	10.4 sec.	10.6 sec.

3 mile	15:30.4	16:10.4

with the result that they stacked up 43 points against 34 for their nearest rivals, Medicine, the defending champions. The non-participation of Captain Phil Edwards in the meet; however, was probably a deciding factor in the final standing of Arts and Medicine.

Only one record went by the boards throughout the afternoon. Meiklejohn of Medicine accounting for this, with a discuss toss of 117' 8". The old mark stood at 114' 7 1/2".

Hasler Good
Hasler of Arts proved to be one of the individual stars of the afternoon. He copped both the 880 and 440 yard runs. His sprinting finishes in these events brought him into the lead from behind on each occasion to win by a narrow margin. Meiklejohn, the Medical field ace, who captured the shot putt event in near record fashion, besides notching up the aforementioned record in the discuss throw, was another outstanding competitor of the day. Another double event winner, Goodfellow of Arts, was the dark horse of the program. He sped across the cinders in both sprint events, the 100 and 220, to register surprise victories.

Selection of the Intercollegiate team which meets Toronto Varsity on October 20th for championship track and field honors will be decided within the next few days. An intermediate team will likewise be chosen from among the remaining competitors of yesterday's meet. This team meets R.M.C. on October 27th for the eastern intermediate-intercollegiate track title.

Our Advertisers

IT IS NOT generally known among the student body that their annual subscription to the Daily included in the student activity fee far from covers the cost of publishing this paper. As may be seen from the annual statement published in the first issue, approximately one half of the revenue was from student subscriptions and sundry outside subscriptions, and the rest of the revenue was derived from advertising.

A deficit was incurred. For that matter the Daily has had a deficit for several years, though it has made substantial profits in the past, which have reverted to the Students' Society.

Now it is obvious that the funds obtained from the student subscriptions may be regarded as constant from year to year. It is the advertising that has to be maintained to keep the Daily out of the red ink. For that reason we make an appeal to the student body to respect the confidence of our advertisers. They, feeling that McGill student body are interested in what they have to provide, are displaying their wares through the medium of the Daily. It is certain that no one would spend money without expecting to derive some return from it. Our advertisers are investing in advertising in our paper. The student body should support them to the best of their ability, and give them the return to which they are entitled.

Needless to say, the Daily would benefit greatly, through this acknowledgement of the student body, and our advertisers would realise the value of this field.

Staff And Students

YESTERDAY afternoon was held the Students-Professors golf match, one of the few occasions in the college year when the students can mingle with the staff in an atmosphere of informality and good-fellowship and get to know what really lies beneath the exterior of the men they hear lecturing to them every day. This annual event is always exceedingly successful and the professors turn out in large numbers to entertain their student guests.

Unfortunately, however, this is about the only occasion in the college year when they do get a chance to mingle outside class. True enough there are other desultory efforts, such as the Student-Professor chess match, but as this only involves some dozen students and professors altogether, it can hardly be said to add greatly to their understanding of each other.

A few years ago the S.C.A. undertook to start a Saturday night club at Strathcona Hall, where students could meet the professors informally. We believe that it is no longer in existence. Several reasons might be adduced to account for its apparent failure—Saturday night is one replete with other engagements for most people, and in addition to this, perhaps the program was not definite enough or interesting enough. At any rate it did not continue for long.

We do not think that the professors are not interested enough in the students to support these informal get-togethers—most of them take a real interest in their students and welcome the opportunity to meet them out of class. Nor is it the fault of the students—they are not diffident about meeting the professors in a golf match, so why should they be in a social evening? The fault lies, we think, in the fact that no one has as yet evolved a form of entertainment which will arouse their common interest to a sufficient extent to attract large numbers of them regularly.

Meanwhile we would suggest that professors be permitted and encouraged to make use of the Union, so that at least they might meet the students at meals and discuss their problems with them, or perhaps indulge in a game of billiards or cards.

The Freshman Prom

TONIGHT one of the big events of the year for freshmen and freshettes takes place—the Freshman Prom. Sponsored by the McGill Union this dance gives them an opportunity to meet each other and make new friends. In the past it has proved so popular with upperclassmen that the freshmen had difficulty getting dances, but this year overcrowding will be avoided as no upperclassmen will be permitted to attend. Those in charge therefore expect a full turnout of all first year students and cordially invite them all to come and take part in the evening's fun.

THE THEATRE

French Films

Among the many cinema-lovers at McGill, how many take advantage of the excellent and unusual opportunity offered them in the French film? In these days when a knowledge of French is becoming more and more of a practical necessity and loss of a cultural distinguishing mark it is becoming correspondingly easier to learn it. For the advanced student, there is the distinguished Parisian visiting company, now well advanced in a second prosperous week at His Majesty's; as well as the more intimate Stella Theatre, where a stock company of general excellence continues quietly to pack houses week by week. The partially-advanced student will perhaps find the film easier to follow. On the stage there is little physical movement: practically everything depends for revelation on the spoken word—If missed, the meaning of whole scenes, to say nothing of subtle innuendo or double entendre, may go for nothing. This is not, to a great extent, the case with the film, where a great deal depends on pantomime, where one's eyes can wander away from the mouth of the speaker to include technical details, and where the language itself, because of greater use of the close-up, is generally more easily heard and comprehended.

The follower of the cinema will likewise find a great relief, in the French film's difference of approach, from the deadening monotony of the American product with which he is saturated. On local screens, during the present week, two first-run films of unusual interest may be cited. "La Madelon" relates the amusing results of a Pyramis and Thisbe love-affair, the wall in this case separating the hero, in military barracks, from the heroine who is lodged in a strict boarding-school. Much of the comedy depends on Armand Bernard, a comic of the Jimmy Durante type, though blessed with more subtlety, and the diminutive Jeannine Merrey. The photography is not restricted, and follows the players everywhere, revealing them in unexpectedly ludicrous situations which a knowledge of French is not essential to appreciate. The latest of Georges Milton, "Nu Comme Un Ver," is an original comedy that cleverly twists the poor-man-become-rich theme into a new angle. Milton is truly of the people, a lovable gamin, whose enchanting smile and sunny disposition carry him on the crest of the wave. He has discovered the essential of audience sympathy, and makes audiences laugh with him as Chaplin did, not at him as Keaton did. Again cleverness of photography and technique must be instanced, particularly in a skilfully-conceived dream-scene, where the resources of the camera become apparent. Throughout both pictures runs an under-current of gay music, an invaluable accompaniment, tuned to the mood, and occasional sprightly lyrics almost essential to the action. One never feels the monotonously recurring regularity of the American "theme song."

English Films

A British correspondent has written for an honest Canadian opinion on English movies shown here. Well, here it is! There has been a regrettable tendency of late to eulogize all English movies just because they were English. Canadian papers have carried this practice as absurd, so that one can scarcely now distinguish between the good and the bad. One needs only to instance last year's "Looking on the Bright Side," "Jack's the Boy," "The Love Contract" which were given the same enthusiastic publicity as "The Good Companions" and "Rome Express." When it comes to amusement, Mr. Movie-Goer doesn't give a rap for patriotic support. There exists, then, a confusion and general distrust of the whole product. I suggest that more skilful advertising would better this state of affairs.

The British film-player is not, as in Hollywood, recruited directly for the films, publicized and made much of, photographed in every possible pose, written about in ever newspaper and fan magazine, etc.; but for the most part is recruited from the stage, and though distinguished in his line, not known to the rank and file. Contrast the popularity here of Janet Gaynor, Fredric March, Wallace Beery and Garbo with that of Cedric Hardwicke, Madeleine Carroll, or Jessie Matthews. It is a strange state of affairs that unless the stars have appeared in American successes and been subjected to American publicizing methods, as has been the case with Herbert Marshall, Jack Buchanan and Charles Laughton; little is known about them, and consequently little interest taken. It is a well-known psychological fact that the film public is attracted more by faces than by stories. By the wide publicity given their players, the American producers seek to reveal their glamorous personalities as human beings of much the same nature and lives as their fan-followers. Only by this method, it is felt, can the sympathy necessary for true popularity be gained. The British producer on the contrary, gives out little or no "human" publicity of his players, and it is small wonder that the average frequenter of movies does not know them.

The whole state of affairs boils down to bad advertising. Take the case of the splendid Gaumont version of "Good Companions." When shown in this country, it was advertised as made from Priestly's famous book, attended by Their Majesties, having run for so long in London, praised by Canadian critics, etc.—scarcely a word about the members of a star-studded cast that included such excellent players as John Gielgud, Edmund Gwenn, Jessie Matthews, Edmund Nunn, E. W. Bascombe, Richard Dolman etc. Compare the unfortunate history of this film in Canada with that of "Grand Hotel" and the recent "Dinner at Eight" where the opposite method of attack was resorted to!

There is no question of Canadians greatly enjoying the average British film, if only they can be got to see it. That, after all, is the primary consideration, and British firms will do well to look to their advertising.

His Majesty's Theatre

WITH THE production last night of Marcel Achard's comedy-drama, "Domino," the Georges Colin Company at His Majesty's made their most ambitious venture to date. The other plays in their repertoire have been either amusing trifles or melodramas, neither worthy of serious consideration, memorable only in so far as they introduced the talents of this excellent group. One expected much then, in "Domino," and it is no small compliment to say that expectation was easily passed.

Lorette, actually guilty of no more than indiscretion, is accused by an unreasonably jealous band of an affair with his friend, Francois. To divert his unjust suspicion, she advertises for another Francois, who appears in the person of Domino, a devil-may-care youth of charming manners. A love-scene that will be overheard by the husband is arranged, but with an unexpected twist that lifts the plot into originality, the proposal becomes real, and Lorette decides to accept it. The first two acts are slow, and contain much expository matter that is justified only in that it thoroughly reveals the natures of the principal characters. But the ironic third act, a parallel of the "Candida" theme, where however, the one most in need of the wife's love proves to be Domino, is one of those rarely-encountered superbly-written scenes that challenge attention and defy criticism.

In the principal role of Domino, the shadowy lover who proves more intelligent and admirable than the real one, M. Jean Riviere reveals hitherto unexpected comedy talents; and Mme Marthe Aylcia plays a most difficult straight part with all the finesse and subtlety that one has come to admire in her. These two, by the mere force of their roles, stand out in a smoothly-rounded cast in which MM. Jean Poc, Henri Guisot, and Leon Berson also distinguish themselves.

THE SHOWS NEXT WEEK

Palace

JOHN L. BALDERSTON'S enchanting play "Berkeley Square" which amazed London for 18 months and astonished even blasé Broadway, gains in beauty and splendor in celluloid form. The picture opens today at the Palace with Leslie Howard re-creating his stage role for the screen and lovely Heather Angel in the leading feminine role.

The story, which is familiar to most theatre-goers, centres around Peter Standish, young American who inherits an ancestral home in "Berkeley Square." The 1933 Peter Standish becomes the Peter Standish of Berkeley Square of 1784. He forgets that he is living a hundred and fifty years before his time and that things in history have not yet happened. His modern argot and his knowledge of events to come mark him as a demon and he is feared and shunned by all save the girl for whom "The Veil is very thin." She knows and she glimpses the future as he does the past.

By popular demand, the Palace has brought back Walt Disney's famous cartoon "Three Little Pigs" which has taken the continent by storm as a special added attraction.

Capitol

"HEROES FOR SALE", hailed as one of Richard Barthelmess' finest pictures to date is the screen feature on the Capitol's current double bill. Heading the supporting cast are lovely Loretta Young and Aline MacMahon. The second feature is "Her First Mate," co-starring Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts.

"Heroes for Sale," presents the gripping drama of a world war hero, severely wounded, who tries to rehabilitate himself at home. The entire story of the post war period is seen through the eyes of this veteran. The story is novel and rich but it is also a faithful document of the present age.

The second feature "Her First Mate," co-starring Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts is a positive riot of merriment. Summerville and Pitts are presented as a married couple living in a "hick town". The fun begins in real earnest when Miss Pitts secretly spends their entire joint savings to buy for him the little ferry boat which operates out of their town.

Princess

THE BILL-OFF-FARE at the Princess theatre commencing Saturday will have as its special feature "The Bowery," with Wallace Beery, George Raft and Jackie Cooper in the leading roles, and as an added attraction "Devil's Mate," with Preston Foster and Peggy Shannon, in the leading roles.

"The Bowery" brings back to life, re-created from faded tints and photographs yellowed with age, such photographs as Chuck Connors, "Mayor" of Chinatown, Steve Brodie, who did the famous brodie from Brooklyn Bridge and lived to tell about it, John L. Sullivan smacking 'em down for a $25 purse. Carrie Nation with her hatchet battling the beer bottles on the Bowery; as well as many other celebrities of the times.

Peggy Shannon star of numerous Broadway stage shows, will have the leading role in "Devil's Mate," which will be the added attraction and Preston Foster will play opposite her. Others in the cast are Hobart Cavanaugh, Barbara Baroness, Jason Robards George Hayes, Ray Walker, Paul Porcasi and others, the picture was directed by Phil Rosen.

Loew's

THURSTON, acclaimed the most skillful magician living, comes to Loew's Theatre for one week, beginning today. Miss Jane Thurston, the magician's daughter, is co-starring with her father this season. She is a singing and dancing comedienne and the only woman magician in the world. The last of the great illusionists, Thurston's program runs the gamut from sleight of hand to stage-size scenic and electrical effects. The mechanical marvels presented are not only humorous, but have their dramatic effect as well. Sleight of hand feats, for which Thurston has been famous for three decades, fill out the program.

The screen feature "Will Rogers in 'Doctor Bull'" is a stirring story that has been brought to the screen with artistry and verve. The story centres around "Doctor Bull" who has time for everything, even courting a widow. But first he has to solve the romantic problems of some of his younger clients. Will Rogers, in the role, is seen at his best and is ably assisted by Marian Nixon, Louise Dresser and Vera Allen.

Cinema de Paris

"LA MADELON", one of the finest musicals yet shown on the screen, has developed an admiration of many at the Cinema de Paris, this week. Excellent photography, general colour, and the conduct of the action combine to make an excellent picture.

Armand Bernard and Janine Meney, in the principle roles of Desire Chopin and La Madelon, monopolize the charm of this musical comedy. The former, in particular, bringing his drollery into many of the scenes. Jacques Maury, Simone Bourdais, Marcel Andre and Marcelle Barry combine to fill the cast.

Interesting actualities and other short subjects complete the program.

Imperial

"NU COMME UN VER," the outstanding French comedy picture of the week, stars George Milton as Gustave Adam. He plays a many sided role, each side revealing a new talent, and adding fresh humour to the picture. As millionaire prisoner, waiter, and business man his attractive personality appeals to us. Three new songs of Maurice Yvain's of which "Tout Va Bien" must be mentioned, add greatly to the musical side of the picture.

Lucrezia Bori

A concert will be given by Mme. Bori at the Imperial Theatre on Monday next. On this occasion Bori will present some of those exquisite costumes designed by her in collaboration with Mme. Lanvin. This famous singer is considered one of the best dressed women on the concert and operatic stage of today, and to those who appreciate fine singing, great acting and supreme art, a costume recital by her is a rare experience.

To all lovers of opera and fine singing the name of Bori has become a household word. Last year the Directors of the Metropolitan Opera chose her to be Chairman of their "Save-the-Opera" Campaign which resulted in her raising $300,000.00, making possible the 1933-34 season of the Metropolitan. It is not difficult to comprehend why she is considered the most popular artist of that institution.

Bori is not only the loveliest singer of today, but her charming personality has made her beloved by everyone who has come in contact with her, whether it be in front of or behind the footlights.

A roster of religious organizations lists 14 groups of Brethren, including Brethren Dawkins, Brethren Plymouth, and Brethren River; the latter group probably being composed of the sons of Ol' Man River.

Watt And Murray Meet Once Again For Tennis Title

FOLLOWING their victories yesterday in the semi-finals Laird Watt and Bob Murray met once again in the final of the tennis tournament. These two players met last year for the Dr. G.
F. Martin trophy, emblematic of the championship, Murray coming out on top after a stiff five-set match.

Yesterday Murray defeated Sur-veyer, 6-2, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2. Except for the third set Murray always held the upperhand. Watt defeated Robertson, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. Cool and collected he kept Robertson continually on the run with his well placed shots.

Spectators are assured of a splendid exhibition of tennis, as Watt, who is the Provincial and Intercollegiate singles champion, has been steadily improving and should give Murray an even better fight than last year. Play is scheduled to start at 11.00 a.m.

Frosh Gridders Meet Strong Loyola Squad

Game Scheduled For 2:15
At Loyola Grounds

McGILL FROSH, led by Matheson, will invade Loyola grounds tomorrow at 2:15, in the second game of their schedule. After their inauspicious debut against Bishop's College, Coach Tremaine's men will go on the field prepared to atone for their feeble efforts on Wednesday.

This afternoon, the freshman team will hold a last practice before the Loyola tilt, to brush up on their offensive and defensive tactics. The coach will try especially to strengthen the line, which appeared quite weak in the first league game. The starting line-up for the game will be the same as Wednesday's, with the exception of Probert, who will start in an outside position.

Queens And McGill Meet In Kingston

Tricolour Mentor Hopes To Field Capable Grid
Squad

KRUKOWSKI LIKELY TO REMAIN ON SIDELINES

KINGSTON, Ont.—(C.I.P.) — Concluding with a signal drill tomorrow afternoon, Queen's seniors will wind up a week's strenuous practice in preparation for the invasion of McGill on Saturday. The mistakes of that disappointing defeat at London corrected, the players have this week shown more pep and dash in their play than they have shown all season.
Coach Ted Reeve has drilled them intensively and feels that on Saturday Queen's will play the football of which they are capable.

Drafting "Dunc" McIntosh quarterback and Marty Jones inside and Flying Wing, from the intermediates, Reeve has brought the roster up to full strength. Both boys have shown much promise and will likely get plenty of work in the McGill contest.
Apart from these changes, Reeve will stand pat on the lineup that appeared in the Western game.

Wing and Davis Will Boot
The kicking burden will be shared by Gummy Davis and Johnny Wing and both are capable hoofers. Curley Krug, Bob Ralph and Red McNichol will round out the rear guard with the latter two also performing at quarter when necessary. John Kostulick will be at snap with Dufee as understudy.
For inside wing duty, Weir, Bryne, Miller, Earle, Waugh and Jones are available and for middle wings, coach Reeve will rely on Bud Gorman, Abe Zvonkin and Anderson. The ends will be Ralph, Glass, Peever and Dargavel.
Capt. Howard Hamlin will again play flying wing. Dunc McIntosh will make his senior debut at quarterback. Coach Reeve was reticent about announcing a starting lineup but most of the men mentioned above will see action in Saturday's game.

Heavy Session for Redmen
"Shag" worked his squad through a lengthy session yesterday, taking full advantage of the holiday to drill the team in some new formations and brush up the line and backfield work both defensively and offensively. As a final touch to the week's heavy work the seniors scrimmaged with the intermediates who gave them a real battle from start to finish and showed up several weak spots in the big red machine.

Don Young will almost certainly start in his old position as his ankle is much stronger than it has been for some time but Al Krukowski is hardly likely to don a uniform in the Limestone city.

coming winter season. All members and those interested are invited to

Great Enthusiasm At Boxing Workouts

SPORTING four intercollegiate champions, the boxing squad is drawing full turnouts at its tri-weekly practices in the High School gym. The workouts are at present confined to p. t. and shadow boxing and are open to anyone interested in keeping physically fit. Newcomers at present predominate among the devotees but the veterans are expected to put in regular appearances soon.

The 145-lb division is well-stocked with entries, Paul Elle, former U. of Montreal hockey player and two Americans, Mac-Donald and Quinn, vying for the position. Nels Cruickfield is expected to compete in the 175-lb division and will run up against the present champion, "Slip" Gilbert. There is a dearth of candidates among the lighter weights and such will be welcomed. A 160-lb fighter would be greeted heartily also.

Bob Costello Smashes Dixie
Par In Second Round

ARN MITCHELL AGAIN
LEADS FACULTY TEAM

LED BY the brilliant play of Bob Costello who turned in a sparkling 72 in the morning round of the Student-Professor play at Dixie yesterday and then followed up with a parsmashing 68 in the afternoon, the Students had little difficulty in retaining possession of the Harrington Trophy, the final results showing the faculty players on the extremely short end of a 70-19 score.

Professor Arn Mitchell was low man on the faculty side again this year, combining a 35-43 for a 78 to lead
Dr. Lamb and Dr. Roger McMahon who each turned in cards of 85. Costello shot a pair of 36's in the morning and burned up the course in the afternoon with a 35-33 round. The long driving Engineering student was decidedly "on," every phase of his game being all that could be desired.

Several Good Scores
Following the morning round the leading student players played a second round to cut down the field of candidates for the team which will represent the college in the intercollegiate matches. Russ Ward turned in a pair of 84's while Jimmy Brodie, blonde Commercial shot-maker toured the course twice in 78's. Johnny Ca-george was another who shot duplicate rounds, two 80's going down on his card. Frank Corrigan, prominent Ottawa links star and member of the Quebec team which played in the Canadian Amateur Tourney at Vancouver during the summer as well in the van with '80-77.

John Findlay shot two good rounds of 77-79 while Bill Bush had an 85-80 and W. C. Harrison coupled an 85-
78. Duncan carded 83-84 and Chailles 89-82 with Ferguson turning in an 87-84 to complete the afternoon play.
The golf team will practice all next week at Mariborough, the privileges of the course having been extended for the purpose. Those wishing to play today may arrange to do so by getting in touch with Tom Calder. It is expected that the Toronto team will arrive in Montreal next Wednesday in order to get in a few rounds before the intercollegiate play starts one week from today.

Veteran Grapplers In Heavy Session

TWENTY grapplers of all sizes and shapes enjoyed a strenuous session at the hands of the new wrestling coach, Frank Saxon, in the High School Gym.
There was a sprinkling of veterans among the enthusiastic new comers and things look bright for a banner season. Barza, Bloor, Pistreich, Golfman, and Meagin put in a surprisingly early appearance and doubtless intend to replace this year.

Coach Saxon is concentrating on building up a squad from all available material this year and all candidates are urged to try out. No previous experience is necessary and with a long training season still ahead, much practical experience and a handy knowledge of the game can be picked up.
Bell, intercollegiate 115-lb champion, and Porteous have not put in an appearance and would do well by reporting to the coach.

Senior Football

The senior football team will leave for Kingston today at 3 p.m.
via the pool train from Windsor station. All members of the squad, including Drury, Bishop, Byrne and Gorman are asked to report at the Field House at 1 p.m. for instructions regarding the Queen's game.

Fall training for the winter season will begin at an early date under the direction of Bill Thompson.

Gives Advice To Freshmen

Lafayette, Ind. — You young fellows just out of school: you have had a tough time the last two years, you were anxious to get to work. Nothing opened up. You felt you were butting your heads against a stone wall.

We pass on to you a phrase we saw the other day — to you and to the others who joined your ranks this spring.

That phrase is, yesterday is dead! The country has been bogged down before. It is going to begin to pull out shortly, just as it always has pulled out. But mark this, business is not coming back just as it was before. It never does after going through the wringer.

A lot of old leaders and old methods have passed out. A new bunch of aggressive and resourceful young fellows will come stomping up to grasp new opportunities.

For yesterday is dead! New opportunities, mind you. Not the opportunities of the last decade those are gone. If experience is a guide, recovery will not come in orderly fashion, along the old lines. Keen men will see business chances here and there even while things are at a low level. Chances that grow out of the depression with its changed demands.

Perhaps these will lie in new products of science, in inexpensive novelties, in house cooling, in cheap farm lands. Men who live in the past will think of things as they were in 1929. So they will fall to see the new conditions and take advantage of them.

SWAGGER STRIPES

By FORSYTH

To Accent Your Fall Ensemble

STRIPES will be particularly good this Fall since checked and small pattern shirts are very much in demand—and striped ties are just about the smartest complement to shirts of this type.

You will note at once that these stripes are just a little bit different from anything you've seen before. In addition, they come in a particularly interesting range of new Fall shades.
